Black-necked Stilt 5/12/94

2 Black-necked stilt at Brunner's D. These 2 birds one larger than the other appeared at a flyash pond. They were not in the water so the size was easy to see. They arrived about 10 AM after a very heavy shower & seemed disoriented. They were at 3 different locations but only stopped a few minutes. When they departed they flew south in the direction of the Power Plant. Checking Eastern Shore weather sometime during that day they had winds up to 40 mph.

The long needle like black bill along with the black head neck & back were easy seen. The front from throat to tail was white. The long legs on both birds were bright red.
